

Dear Community Friends,

As soon as it is fiscally possible, video streaming will be made available at no cost to our viewers. In the meantime, however, Agape must cover the cost of the bandwidth. We expect the number of worldwide viewers to grow to thousands over the next few weeks, and the cost of bandwidth could potentially run tens of thousands of dollars each week. During this time of global economic challenge, we receive countless requests from throughout the world for Dr. Beckwith's message of encouragement and comfort. After much prayerful consideration, we no longer wanted to postpone video streaming because we could not broadcast his message without a charge to cover the cost of streaming.

Peace and blessings,

Gerald Russell
